

Appreciating the importance of including diverse experiences and perspectives in the education of our students, MPH seeks motivated, talented, and enthusiastic students to create a rich and vibrant environment for teaching and learning. To ensure that students and families have equitable access to this educational experience, we award over $1,000,000 in grants and scholarships to more than 40 percent of our families each year. Our process of determining the financial needs of each family reflects the personal and respectful approach MPH applies to every aspect of its admissions; we create a school-family partnership with the shared goal of educating students.

To be considered for grants and scholarships, parents must annually complete the Parents' Financial Statement (PFS) on the School and Student Services (SSS) website. SSS will calculate your family's ability to pay tuition, called your "Estimated Family Contribution," and share that information with MPH Admissions. MPH uses the information from SSS as a starting point to determine eligibility for grants and scholarships, and also considers our available resources. Information pertaining to financial support will be included in your child's Reenrollment packet (current families) or Acceptance Packet (new families).
