Description

Introduction to Conducting is a group class focused on developing conducting skills. This class is open to students who are new to conducting but have had past instrumental or vocal instruction. Students will actively practice through mentored group participation, learning both new conducting techniques and musical concepts each week. Guest artist faculty Alba S. Torremocha teaches the course.

Alba S. Torremocha is an award-winning composer, conductor, and multi-instrumentalist. She is on the faculty at NYU Steinhardt School of Music. To learn more, view Ms. Torremocha's full bio here.
